Games, crafts, movies, and special events connected with nature and the outdoors will be the prevailing activities at San Tomas this week.

Friday the parents will be invited to witness the results of a nature week "You Name It Contest."

There will be a special Hobby Show for exhibit.

Other activities during the week included craft, stencil work, painting work.

ACTS ON LOCAL GRAVEL REMOVAL

Adding to requests from other local civic organizations notably the Orchard City Grange, Campbell Kiwanis Club has submitted a letter of Santa Clara County Board of Supervisor urging a ban on excavation of gravel from county streambeds.

The letter emphasized points mentioned in the Grange protest that gravel excavations in heavy amounts has already jeopardized the Upper Page Dam and the Camden Ave. bridge downstream. Excavation in other streams could produce similar results, they argued.

Supervisors referred the letter to County Engineer Robert B. Chandler and the County Planning Commission.

Campbell city engineer, Mark Thomas, recommended at the request of the council, when the Grange resolution was submitted the adoption of an ordinance prohibiting excavations within 1,000 feet of the bridge or control of excavations throughout the city.

LOCAL SAILOR HOME FROM KOREA; SEES EXPLOSION KILL THIRTY MEN

An accidental gun turret explosion which took the lives of thirty of his shipmates, was one of the many experiences related by Marvin Blue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Blue, 789 White Oaks Road, home on five days leave from his ship, U.S.S. St. Paul, recently returned from seven and a half months in Korea. "Since no one in the turret which blew up came out alive," Blue recounts, "we'll never know how it happened."

"We were on a bombardment mission off Kojo, Korea, last April, and had been blasting shore installations all morning when it happened. No fire was being returned from shore when the thing blew up," he said. "It just happened."

Seaman Blue enlisted in the Navy in November, 1951 and trained at San Diego Naval Training Center.

His ship is now undergoing repairs at Long Beach where Blue will join it Monday.

Elvan A. Hansell, superintendent of Hunts Food Cannery of Central Ave., says the plant will start operation some time Monday, probably with the night shift which starts at 7 p.m.

Closest estimate last week was that plant would start tommorrow, dependent on volume of pears received from Sacramento River.

All arrangements have been made to begin operations, Hansell said. Workers have been hired, machinery has been checked, cans add liquid sugar have been arriving all week and the first nine or ten hour shift should be ready to tackle the first batch of pears, peaches and fruit cocktail on the Monday opening.

Sanitation Dist. 4 Audit Due Soon

A bookkeeping system will be installed for the Campbell-District office of Sanitation District Number four, after completion of an audit of records back to 1948.

Audit was authorized by District Commissioners at a meeting last week.

Sanitation District Number four, comprises the Campbell, Los Gatos, and Saratoga areas.

Audit will cover more than $1,000,000 expended during a three and one-half year period for installation of a sewage sanitation system.

Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Company, a national auditing concern, was awarded contract for the work on its low bid of $1500.

Commissioners also scheduled a public hearing yesterday to listen to protests against formation of special assessment districts in West Saratoga, Daves Ave., and Shannon Road in Los Gatos and Casey Road near Campbell.

Residents in those areas have received postcards informing them of proposed assessments for construction of collection sewers, based on engineer's estimate for the whole job.

At the hearing, bids on the job were opened. Final assessments will depend on how costly acceptable bids approximates engineer's estimate.

POOL PLEDGES NOT BEING KEPT; TOTS LOSE OUT

While approximately 4600 Campbell area residents and children attended last week's swimming lessons and recreational facilities at Campbell High School pool, many were turned away due to failure of parents to cancel reservations when their children were unable to attend.

Bill Perry, pool manager, cautions parents to cancel reservations if their children cannot attend the next session which starts Monday. Monday.

Perry said that of a total 463 applicants at the last session considerably less showed up for instruction.

"That means," said Perry, "that about 150 to 200 children were turned away, and were deprived of the use of competent instruction."

"In the meantime, Perry continued, "our expenses remain the same, because we have four full time instructors here all the time."

Perry also said applications for the Kiwannis and High School sponsored Swim meet scheduled for Saturday have been slow in coming in.

Applicants are urged to submit their entry blanks without delay in order to be eligible to enter the contest this Saturday.

JURY DECIDES IF MAN CAN'T SEE CAR 6 FEET AWAY, HE MUST BE DRUNK

If a man can't see an automobile six feet in front of him he must be drunk. That was the gist of the reasoning which judged Elver Griswold, 29, Rt. 1, Box 742, guilty of drunken driving at a trial held last Wednesday at IOOF Hall in Judge Martin S. Walsh's Justice Court.

Time for sentencing is set for 2 p.m. this afternoon. Fine for this type of offense usually runs between $150-250.

While Griswold admittedly had had a few drinks of beer and wine, defense attorney Louis Bergna argued in Griswold's behalf that the amount imbibed was not sufficient to cause intoxication.

"The reason Griswold ran into the back of an auotmobile driven by James Wilson at the corner of Union and Campbell Aves., Bergna said, "was due to an argument Griswold had had earlier, and not from anything he had been drinking."

Prosecutor Louis Doll argued, and the jury agreed, that anyone who failed to see an object as large as an automobile, provided he kept his eyes in the direction he was driving, must be under the influence of something stronger than water.

Griswold was arrested March 6, by officer Jelich for drunken driving. He pleaded "not guilty" to the charge and demanded a trial by jury.

A verdict of guilty was returned by foreman Robert Todd at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the completion of the four-hour trial.

Griswold was convicted by a jury composed of forman Robert Todd, Oakie A. Dickson, Mrs. Bertha Totaro, Miss Evelyn Rodway, Mrs. Gene LaMur, Carl Olsen, Albert M. Carter, Mrs. Pearl Campbell, Ed E. Arnott, Mrs. Helen Nelson, George A. Plade, Michael M. Saso Jr.

'NEVER SAY DIE' ROTARY CLUB TO BATTLE LIONS

Campbell Rotary members never say die. In spite of a recent 23-12 whipping at the hands of the local Kiwanis Club, The Rotary "400" will enter the valley of the Campbell Grammar School turf Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. not to question why, but to attempt to keep the Campbell Lions from completely devouring them.

Cel Gerevas, spokesman for the Rotund Rotarians, admit they have a battle on their hands in attempting to wrest a victory from the youthful and hungry for victory Lions.

In attempting to level the odds, Rotarians have forced new pitcher, Leonard Baptist, to practice nightly behind the barn, and other team members have been feverishly developing a strategy that they hope will insure victory when the fateful cry of "play ball" is sounded. Rotarians have called their strategy "mind over matter" and will attempt a victory by brains, they say, instead of brawn.

As with the Kiwanis, losers will have to buy dinners for the victors.

CAMPBELL POLICE FORCE TO START OPERATIONS AUGUST FIRST; LOCKE, DOOLITTLE, TO BE FIRST OFFICERS

Robert C. Locke and Louis Doolittle are Campbell's new special police officers, chosen from a list of 12 applicants at a meeting of Campbell police commission last Wednesday.

Patrolmen will start August 1 with a radio-equipped car. Salary are $320 monthly, with $20 yearly increases to a maximum of $360.

Police will spend interim in setting up books and filing system in Firehouse building, buying and ordering equipment and familiarizing themselves with police problems to be encountered in the city.

Appointments were announced at City council meeting Monday by Chairman James R. Arends, Jr. Mayor Richard W. Morton, and councilman Joseph V. Gomes, members of the police commission.

Twelve applicants were interviewed last Wednesday by police commission assisted by Barton Collins, chief of qualifications.

Locke, whose home is at 446 E. Casey Road, was formerly a merchant patrolman in Campbell. Doolittle, a graduate of San Jose State Police School, worked under San Jose Park Department as a guard at Alum Rock Park. He lives at 3225 Bluebird Ave., San Jose.

H and L Chevrolet Company in Los Gatos submitted the only bid for a police vehicle which was accepted by the council. It will be a DeLuxe Sedan costing $2200. Car will be equipped with standard County radio installation. It will be in contact with County Communications Center and the department will have its own Campbell phone number.

EL QUITO PARK SCHOOL DUE TO OPEN OCTOBER 1

Construction is being stepped up at El Quito Park School by Fletcher-Petersen contractors, who hope to have the building completed by October 1.

Mrs. Gussie Baker, principal of Moreland school, says that until completion of the school, Moreland Elementary will go on double session for first, second, and part of the third grade until overflow can move into the new classrooms. Delay in finishing date was due to carpenter's strike, contractors said.

During the summer months, the Moreland Board of Trustees have been interviewing applicants for seven new teacher openings.

More than half of the present faculty are attending summer sessions at various colleges and universities.

Ten faculty members are enrolled at San Jose State, including Robert Tack, new principal of El Quito Park school, who is completing requirements for an administration credential.

Howard Porter Bestows Name On On Mary Anne Lachle, July 20

Howard Chandler Porter bestowed his name on Mary Anne Lachle in afternoon rites last Sunday at St. Martin's Church, San Jose. Mr. Frank Lachle escorted his eldest daughter up the palm-lined aisles of the church to altars appointed with bouquets of white stock, where the double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Caroline.

Mary Anne wore a gown designed by her grandmother, Mrs. S. J. Ward of Shrevesport, Louisiana, and executed by a Shrevesport friend. Of white imported organdy, the dress featured tiny tucks and lace insertion, with a shoulder bertha delicately pleated. Organdy gauntlets and a fingertip veil held by Juliet cap bordered in seed pearls completed the bridal costume. Mary Anne carried a bouquet of white carnations and bouvardia with ivy.

Miria mFerguson of Monte Vista was maid of honor in a long dress of white net over white taffeta with a small white taffeta and velvet hat. Her bouquet was of pastel carnations.

Four-year-old Patricia Lachle also attended her sister Mary Anne in a frock of blue taffeta and net; she carried a French bouquet of baby roses, forget-me-nots and bouvardia.

Best man was the bendict's brother, Pat Porter. Usher was Ward Lachle, brother of the bride. Men of the wedding party wore white dinner jackets and white trousers.

Mrs. Frank Lachle attended her daughter's wedding wearing a sheer dress of navy blue, complemented by a pale pink hat; she pinned on pale pink roess. Mrs. Joe Porter, mother of the bridegroom, chose a royal blue crepe dress with black accessories and pinned on a corsage of dark pink roses.

Schubert's "Ave Maria" was sung for the ceremony by Veryl Cardena.

The new Mrs. Porter cut a three tieerd cake decked with wedding bells and orange blossoms for approximately fifty guests at a postnuptial reception held in the garden of the Lachle home on Harold Avenue. On her departure for the couple's honeymoon at Eagle Lake the bride donned a navy blue suit with white accessories.

Mrs. Porter was graduated from Campbell Union High school last month, and her husband was graduated from the same school in 1951. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Porter of Campbell, Howard is a member of the National Guard and is employed by the Del Monte Co. The young Porters will live in the guest house at the Lachle home.

Swedish Visitors Approve America

Seeing America for the first time are Mr. and Mrs. Eric Anderson of Nafsjo, Sweden, who were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell J. Benson of Briarwood Avenue. Mr. Anderson is Mrs. Benson's cousin.

With two months to view the 48 states, the Andersons devoted half their holiday time to California. The Bensons motored with their guests to Nevada, where they found Virginia City especially interesting; to Monterey and to San Francisco, where they spent gala evenings. The Swedish visitors also visited a rodeo and a ballgame, spectacles they had most wanted to witness.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson also visited for a week in Fresno with Mrs. Benson's mother, Mrs. Hilda Munson, who took them to Yosemite and through the redwoods.

The Andersons list among the marvels they have seen here American supermarkets and the variety and abundance of our comestibles both canned and fresh.

Both of the Andersons are teachers. Mr. Anderson of an eighth grade class, Mrs. Anderson of a kindergarten, in Nafsjo. They live near a lake, and during the long Swedish winters they walk across the lake to the school where they teach. The plan for their journey to the west began when Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Munson visited them for three months last year. The Andersons had a weighty decision to make, as they had to choose between a new home and a trip to the United States. Since they have now seen Niagara Falls, traveled by plane from Chicago to California and viewed the wonders of the far west they do not regret their decision, despite the fact that the present monetary exchange made the trip very expensive, Swedish money being worth only a fifth the value of American money.

The Andersons speak fairly good English, and Mrs. Benson speaks fairly good Swedish; Mr. Benson found his college store of German useful, and the two couples understood each other satisfactorily.

The Scandinavian teachers boarded the Vista Dome streamliner July 14th, with Minneapolis as their next stop. They will sail August 14th on the Gripsholm", which brought them to this country, and will arrive in Nafsjo ten days later, one day before school opens, with a great deal of interesting information for their classes.

Mrs. JESSIE GRIZZLE of North Hollywood is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. VERLE GRIZZLE of Poplar Avenue. Mrs. Grizzle is also spending part of her vacation with her sisters, Mrs. ANNA BARD of Palo Alto and Mrs. DWIGHT DE SELMS of Sunnyvale, and is as well seeing many friends in San Jose.

'ALUMNI'

By Jean Standish

(Readers are invited to contribute to this column.)

Jack Murdock, who was accountant for the Campbell Water Company, until a few years ago, is well remembered in our town. In Campbell Union High school he distinguished himself as president of the Student Body, president of the senior class and secretary of the Boys' Athletic Club. He was a star basketball player and sang a role in the operetta, "In Old Louisiana." He also had nautical leanings, for the inscription beside his photograph in the "Oriole" of 1928, his year of graduation, runs "Oh dear me, that I could be a sailor on the rain blue sea." According to the class prophecy he was more likely to become an opera star.

After graduation from San Jose State College, Jack married Arlene McCord, and there are now two teen-age Murdocks, Sharon and Jimmy. Jack is accountant for a lumber company in Korbel, California. Active for some years in Kiwanis, he has just completed a term as lieutenant governor of the lodge. His close friends the Lowell Bensons of Campbell, whom the Murdocks visit now and then, devoutly believe that Jack should be governor of the state.

Teaching a kindergarten class of 80 pupils is child's play for the former Sallie Davidson. Sallie's "play" is at Selma Olinder school in San Jose, and her name is now Mrs. Ralph Smith. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Davidson of Alice Way, she was literary editor of the "Oriole" in her senior year at Campbell High, which was 1933, and her classmates pronounced her brilliant in the "Razzoscope." She received a degree at San Jose State College. Her husband, Dr. Ralph Smith, was graduated from Cornell University and is assistant professor of zoology at San Jose State College. He appeared recently as a speaker on "Science in Action." The Smiths live at 2435 Walnut Grove Avenue, San Jose.

The Charles A. Coffin Medal is awarded annually by the Edison Electric Institute, an industry-wide organization, to that utility having the outstanding record of accomplishments and public service. The Coffin Award, most highly regarded of electric industry marks of distinction, was established 30 years ago.

P. G. and E. wins electric industry's highest honor for major achievements during 1951

A half million dollars every working day was spent by P. G. and E. during 1951 building new plants and new facilities to serve one of the fastest growing areas in the nation. Last year's construction was part of the Company's billion dollar building program which has already doubled the supply of power and gas available to customers in its area since V-J Day. Thrifty citizens—not the government—financed this largest construction program in utility history.

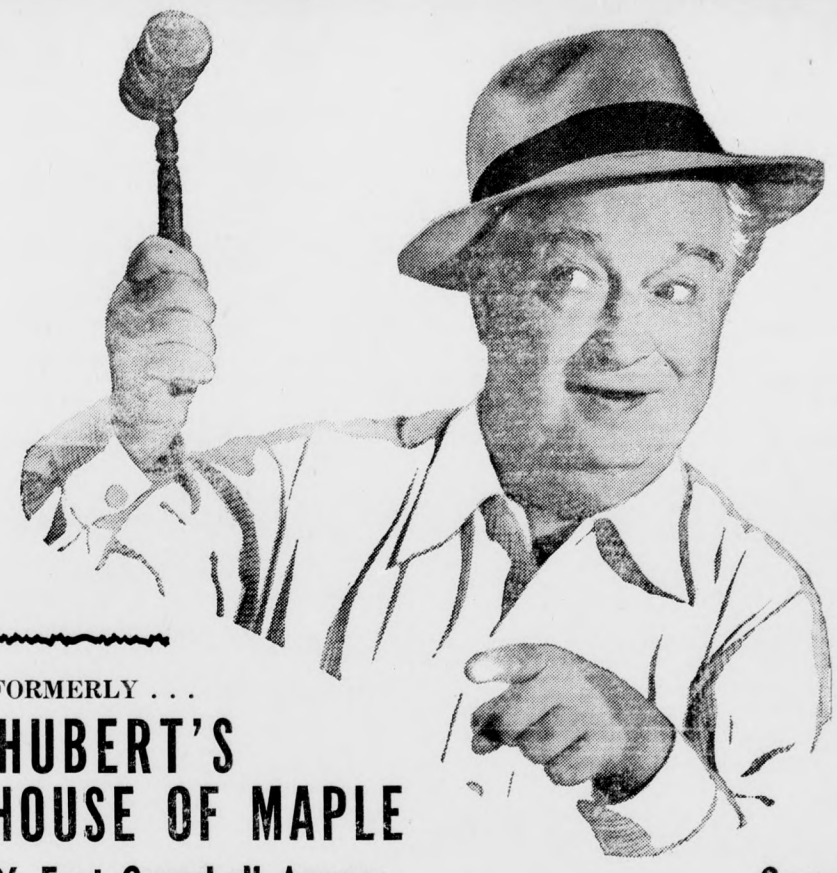

Cooperating with the Government, P. G. and E. has signed two long term agreements with the Bureau of Reclamation. These provide for the sale and interchange of power, and for use of P. G. and E. facilities in marketing Central Valley Project power. P. G. and E. has paid $44 million for CVP power to date and will continue to provide the principal source of revenue for the whole Project. At the same time P. G. and E. continues to be California's largest property taxpayer.

The citation said, in part: "For its courageous undertaking and its able execution of a huge expansion program, for its cooperative and far-seeing acts which brought to all the people of the area and to the taxpayers of the nation the greatest economic advantage in putting to use the electricity generated as a by-product of a major irrigation and flood control project, and for the inestimable value which these great achievements have had in the preservation of the American system of free enterprise and in furthering the progress of the electric industry, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company is hereby declared the winner of the Charles A. Coffin Award for 1951."

Moreland School Awards Prizes To Bike Winners

Highlight of the week's activities at Moreland School, part of the Campbell area recreation program was the bicycle rodeo held on Friday. Awards were given to the following winners: Skipper, Hannon, David, Nagel, and Joan Von Hermann. Winners of the cross-country race were Bill Amrose and Wendall Gates who tied for first place. Merilyn Pennell came in second, with Bobby Pennell driving close behind for third palce award.

In addition to the regularly scheduled program, Moreland introduced new ideas in the daily activities. Most invigorating has been the daily basketball game enjoyed by the boys and girls at 1 p.m. daily.

Another activity which has produced a great deal of interest and enthusiasm has been the shell jewelry making. Some of the older girls are starting many pieces of jewelry which they plan to use for gifts.

Woodworking shop activity has centered around a new interest. All the children are working avidly on napkin holders, models etc.

A clean-up party was held with fresh lemonade served to the hard working members of the Moreland Summer School.

Grammar School Holds Talent Show Friday

Featured in the show were ballet dances by Camellia and Janet Sheldon, Frances Greco, Gail Mancuso, Phyllis Plymale, and Kurt Mac Gill. Other dancers were Diane and Penny Johnson, Patty Rhine, Gloria and Ronald Carpenter, Pamela Scoville, and Beverly Fish.

Songs were sung by Diane and Penny Johnson, Jacelyn Jenkins, Jane Slater, Pamela and Susie Scoville, Jackie Merrill, Michael De Rose, Grant Deem, and Camellia Sheldon.

Other acts on the program were pantomimes of records by Claire Williamson and Frances Greco, a skit by Tommy Wright and Richard Namba, and a guitar solo by Eleanor Lombardo.

This Friday, July 25, children in the recreation program will put on their own circus.

The Platter and Chatter Club, the recreation group for the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades, held their usual Wednesday evening meeting. A movie was shown and dancing and refreshments were enjoyed.

Justice Court Takes In $4,911

Petty crime in the City of Campbell has been on the increase if figures recently released by Justice of the Peace, Martin S. Walsh, are any indication.

During the period July 1, 1951 to June 30, 1952, the local Justice Court has collected $4,911.75 in fines, forfeitures and civil filing fees.

Comparable figure for last year was $4,254.

The court, this year has handled 488 traffic violations, mostly turned by California Highway Patrol and by the Mike Kinsman private police patrol, 48 of which were transferred to other courts. Violators after being judged guilty were either fined or jailed. Eighty one received suspended sentences or probation and five were acquitted or dismissed after appearance in court.

Biggest month for the court from the standpoint of the volume of business handled was last month when $661.25 was taken in. Of this amount, the office points out bail deposits were refunded.

"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

Up in Alaska the term "varmints" is still used. Sometimes it denotes predatory wolves; sometimes bureaucrats.

But regardless of how used, the fiercely independent, individualistic businessmen serving the territory believe there is only one remedy for any varmints . . . extermination.

C. W. Harder

One of the leading exponents of free enterprise in the ranks of Alaskan independent businessmen is Amos Heacock, president of Air Transport Associates, Inc., an independent Alaskan airline.

As reported in this column some weeks ago, the Civil Aeronautics Board, the American Gestapo of the air, has classified independent airlines who serve the public without benefit of fat mail subsidies, as irregular.

Over the protests of the Senate Small Business Committee, headed by Sen. John Sparkman, (D. Ala.) the CAB arbitrarily ruled out of existence independent airlines found scheduling too frequent flights.

A death order was handed to Heacock's Air Transport Associates, to take effect in 30 days.

What CAB bureaucrats failed to realize, however, was that old Alaskan sourdoughs don't relish the idea of being told to drop dead.

So Heacock did not wait for thirty days; he immediately suspended operations.

A serious backlog of fresh food intended for Alaska piled up.

In addition, Alaska Airlines, who has CAB blessings, plus rich government subsidies, discontinued daily DC-4 service to Fairbanks and Anchorage and substituted C-46 service three times a week.

Paralysis attacked the Alaskan economy. The Senate Small Business Committee re-opened the issue, with the result that suspension of Air Transport Associates, Inc. has been cancelled.

But Chairman Nyrop of the CAB has complained to the Senate Small Business Committee staff that Heacock acted unfairly in going out of business before he was supposed to. This marks one of the few times in history when the hangman has criticized his intended victim for dying before the trap was sprung.

However, the Senate Small Business Committee will probably make this a cause celebre in establishing how personal bureaucratic whims are exercised to wreck small business.

Heacock heads independent airlines association, and strongly opposed Senate confirmation of Nyrop to his exalted position.

In addition, Heacock made an offer of the type which horrifies any bureaucrat.

He offered to fly the mail to Alaska with no subsidy from the government, and to a bureaucrat any individual who spurns the public purse is guilty of promoting an idea akin to treason.

It is a long way, both in time and geography from the Minute Men of Lexington to Amos Heacock of Alaska. But both have one thing in common.

Neither hesitated to employ the methods at hand to strike a blow for freedom from the tyranny of bureaucracy.

Mrs. FLORENCE COTTLE, who was called to the bedside of her invalid brother, Mr. HERBERT WADE, 2221 - 31st St., Oakland, will stay indefinitely with Mr. and Mrs. Wade, as Mr. Wade's condition has not yet improved.

Mr. and Mrs. JOHN AINSWORTH of Casey Road had as their guests last week Mrs. Ainsworth's parents, the Reverend and Mrs. EDWIN BOLLING of Walteria, California. The Reverend Bolling was pastor of the Campbell Methodist Church in the 1930's. The couple visited many old friends during their stay here.

Mr. and Mrs. CLARENCE HELMBOLD of South Union Avenue and their family spent the last two weeks at Lake Tahoe and Yosemite, with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. HENRY SOELL and daughter DOLORES of Chicago. Mrs. Soell is Mr. Helmbold's sister. Their mother, Mrs. ANNA HELMBOLD, and brother, Mr. ALBERT PRIEBE, both of Chicago, visited the Helbolds during the six preceeding weeks.

Scout JERRY HENLEY, son of Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM C. HENLEY of South Winchester Road, enjoyed a week with his scout troop at Camp Hi-Sierra so much that he is prolonging the outing as a member of the Junior Staff of the camp. Scout JOHN DUNCAN, son of Mr. and Mrs. JOHN P. DUNCAN of North Third St., enjoyed the same reaction to the exposure.

Both boys assist in the knotting yard, the culinary department, and as sports directors. They arrived in camp on July 6th and plan to return to civilian life August 4th. Their present address is Santa Clara County Boy Scout Camp, Star Route, Sonora, California.

Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM C. HENLEY will visit Jerry at Camp Hi-Sierra next week end.

Young EDDIE DAINS of San Jose was a guest last week of his cousin, ROY MC ALEAR, son of Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT MC ALEAR of East Campbell Avenue. It was an active week for the boys, according to an understatement by Mr. Mc Alear.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. GRISWOLD of Wedgewood Avenue have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. KANEBLEY of Syracuse, Missouri. The Kanebleys and Griswolds were neighbors in Missouri some years ago.

Plans are progressing for the August 3rd wedding at Trinity Episcopal Church of DOROTHY CARMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. HUGH CARMAN of Union Street, and JAMES H. DODD Jr. of Moffett Field. A reception at the De Anza Hotel will follow the ceremony. The benedict-elect, son of Mr. JAMES H. DODD of Minneapolis and Mrs. KATHERINE DODD of Florida, is a Technician First Class in electronics. He left by plane for Honolulu July 15th on official Navy business and will return next Sunday.

The young couple plan to live in Mountain View.

It's a small world—especially if you have television. Mrs. R. B. EDWARDS of E. Campbell Avenue was watching her T.V. screen last week and suddenly saw the familiar faces of her niece and nephew-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. FRANK SPARRETT of Atchison, Kansas. The program, "The Big Pay-Off", is broadcast from New York, where the Sparretts were visiting. As they were introduced near the end of the broadcast, they were invited to return the next day; so Mrs. Edwards, in Campbell, got to see her relatives again.

Mr. Sparrett answered the quiz questions, while Mrs. Sparrett sat silent on a beautiful throne and received the prizes: shoes, perfume, jewelry, a coat and hat and three pieces of luggage.

Mrs. Edwards says she had a delightful, if somewhat one-sided, visit with her Kansan kin.

Mr. and Mrs. GERALD GREENBERG of San Jose have announced the engagement of their niece, GERALDINE MILLER to ROBERT SENIGAGLIA, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. SENIGAGLIA of the same city. The wedding is scheduled for next June.

Geraldine is the daughter of Mrs. BESSIE MILLER of St. Cloud, Minnesota. She is an alumna of Campbell Union High School. Her fiance is a native of Vienna, Austria, and is now a student at San Jose State College.

Mrs. Ira Grim, wife of Campbell Postmaster, is vacationing at Woodland Hill, a suburb of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. CLAUDE N. GRIZZLE recently spent a week near Shasta at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. HUGHES and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. HUGHES. The Hughes families were formerly neighbors of the Grizzles in Campbell. Mr. R. C. Hughes used to drive one of the high school buses here.

The party fished in Medicine Lake (known as "Little Tahoe"), went horseback riding and motored about the beautiful country surrounding Mt. Shasta.

Donna Gerlitz, from Calgary, Alta Canada, and Donna Rugani, from San Francisco were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Raffanti.

Mrs. OSCAR JEWELL GRISWOLD was honored at a baby shower given by her mother, Mrs. E. A. GARRISON of Sunnyoaks Avenue on July 16th. Gifts were presented in a bassinet bedight with lace and satin bows. Mrs. Garrison served cake, coffee and punch. Games were played, and prize winners were Mrs. V. F. FELLMAN, Mrs. ARMOND DAVID and Mrs. FRED MYERS. Other guests were Mesdames LAURA GRISWOLD of San Diego, LEE GARRISON, CHARLES CHUBB, JAMES JUSTICE, C. O. THOMPSON, CECIL HUGHES, KENNETH FIRDOU, DARVIN SKAGGS and JAMES GARRISON.

Eight-year-old Linda French, whose dad George works at Campbell Lumber Company is now at home after recouperating from an abdominal operation at O'Connor Hospital.

Mrs. Betty Williams, of Realistic Beauty Salon, is being visited by her bronc-riding Army son Cloyd, who is presently nursing a broken arm suffered in a local rodeo entanglement with an ornery horse.

Also visiting, is Mrs. William's niece from Montana.

Press mail contained a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Archie Keesling, 257 South Kalaheo, Lanikai, Hawaii, who writes that "although we are satisfied residents of the 'Paradise of the Pacific', we still like to hear what our good friends in Campbell are doing."

HORSES, HORSES, HORSES!

A contrast in horsepower was presented at the Chrysler Corporation's "New Worlds In Engineering" show at the Kansas City Auto Show when this French thoroughbred brought his mistress, Madam Claude Valois, in to see the Chrysler K-310 experimental engine. The engine develops 310 horsepower using premium fuels without supercharging. "New Worlds In Engineering" has been seen by 3,500,000 people throughout the United States during its tour which will take it to major U. S. cities this year.

JULY IS TIME FOR WATERING

There is more to watering than just operating the hose for fifteen minutes after supper, before dark. In general, July is the time to start sprinkling or irrigating seriously. The lawn will need regular watering during the summer.

As fall comes on, do not give up watering because of foggy days or light rains. Your garden still needs good soaking through September, depending, of course, on the kind of weather.

Avoid a superficial irrigating of the surface. Let the water go down deep. This is called slow irrigation.

If you do any transplanting, remember to water those plants well, whether trees, vines, shrubs, or others.

Water your compost heap—the moisture helps to speed decay. Water plants before applying fertilizer, as well as afterwards; this avoids possible burning. If your garden slopes, it will need more watering than a level one. A sandy terrace dries up quickly; it should have twice as much water as a flat lawn.

Sprinklers are good, but you must let them stand in one place for some time before moving, because they spread water thinly.

You can tell when a plant needs water by the drooping or wilting of its leaves; but don't wait for that—some plants do not thus ask for help as soon as others.

A plant just about to bloom needs more water than one which has finished. Different plants should be watered differently. Cacti need very little. Geraniums need a little more. Camellias need a lot. No plant except a bog plant should stand in nothing but water—most others need good drainage.

Sprinkling lightly (except right after sowing seeds, and during germination period, is not enough. The roots turn up toward the surface—one of the causes of shallow-rooted lawns. Water deeply so that the roots reach far down — this stands them in good stead when the weather is extreme.

BABY BIAS FUNERAL SET FOR TODAY

Funeral services will be held today at 2 p.m. at the Rutherford Funeral Home, 101 North Winchester Ave., for five-day-old Lawrence Monrow Bias, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bias of San Jose.

Rev. Clifford Winters, former pastor of Church of Christ in Campbell will officiate at the ceremonies.

Interment will be at Santa Clara City Cemetery.

Baby Bias is survived by his parents, brother James Burton Bias, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hersul Bias of Wedgewood Road Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Teese, Ada Ave., Campbell.

Monty's Cleaners Gets New Owner

Monty's Cleaners, 52 Winchester Road, will have a new manager next Monday. Albert Fiegar, who has been in the cleaning business for the past 25 years at Kansas City, Mo., has moved to Campbell with his wife, Beth, and will take over the establishment formerly operated by Rudy Monty.

Fieger plans to renew the building and intends to operate a fast and efficient pick-up and delivery system.

LEGION MEETS

A short business meeting followed by refreshments comprised the order of the day when the regular meeting of Campbell Post American Legion was held last night at IOOF Hall.

Z. B .Tennison is new commander of the Post. G. W. Smith is adjutant.

JOSEPH BRANNAN, L. A. merchant—"More kids are registered in Sunday schools than parents in churches. Must mean Dad is glad to drive Junior to Sunday school if it's on the way to the golf course."

Revival Attempts Fail On Local Man; Funeral Pending

Campbell Volunteer fire department responded to a revival call at 70 p.m. Sunday night to 97 Cypress Ave., but arrived too late. John Whiteside had apparently suffered a heart attack and failed to respond to revival attempts by Campbell Fire Chief Jack B. Scott, William Morgan and Daniel Rice, who arrived on the scene five minutes after the operator had called.

Following arrival of the Campbell Firemen, Central assistant Fire Chief Luhring and two men arrived, followed by an ambulance, a doctor from Physicians exchange and the sheriff's car, and, according to Chief Scott above five carloads of curious onlookers.

Whiteside had been suffering for some time from a heart ailment. He was taken to Krug Memorial Chapel where funeral services are pending.

FALLS OFF MOTORCYCLE

Back and arm cuts and bruises and a leg wound requiring five stitches were suffered by Ralph Wallace, 55 Gilman Ave., Saturday when he lost his grip on a motorcycle on which he was riding.

FIRE RAGES IN LOCAL GARAGE; $2,000 DAMAGE

In spite of speedy action by the Campbell volunteer Fire department under the direction of assistant fire chief Eugene Scott, a fire roared through George W. Sharp's garage and storeroom at 73 Railroad Ave., last Saturday, resulting in $2,000 damage.

The alarm was received at the home of Fire Chief Jack Scott. Eighteen volunteer firemen responded and within four minutes, according to Chief Scott, they had water on the fire.

Two washing machines, one deepfreeze, one heater and stored fruit were destroyed in the blaze.

The alarm was sounded by Mrs. Tishey Madden who noticed smoke pouring from the building.

Campbell volunteers also doused a fire on a power pole Sunday at Lattimer and Hardy Aves. Also on Sunday on Crockett Road near San Tomas, Cambrian engines put out a brush fire.

The Howell Scott's of 890 Audrey Ave., are entertaining Mrs. Scott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gill of Vancouver, Washington. The Gills are so in love with the Campbell area that they are talking of settling in these parts.

MORE MACHINES

Our present way of life rests upon the invention and use of labor-saving machines, and that is as true of agriculture as of industry and commerce.

Spectacular as has been agriculture's shift to machines, its mechanization is bound to increase at an even faster rate because of the competition to supply consumers with better, more acceptable products at less cost.

By way of illustration take one segment of the fruit industry for proof of the need for greater mechanization. The apricot is one of the most delectable fruits produced in California, but it has certain characteristics which in these times are a great disadvantage. It is very perishable; it ripens rapidly in a short season; and it requires much hand labor in harvesting and processing, whether for drying or canning.

High labor costs have pushed the price of apricot products to the point of seriously limiting its market. And that fact, reflected back in field prices, plus the grower's difficulty of securing adequate, skilled harvest labor has already resulted in the decrease in the State's apricot acreage from 82,703 in 1928 to less than 46,000 acres now. In 10 years, acreage has decreased 32 percent.

SIMPLE DEVICES NEEDED

This situation could be significantly changed by the development of several mechanical devices. The most important would be a simple, effective apricot cutter. Several cutters have been developed already, and research is under way to develop a machine at moderate cost which would be used in the grower's dryyard as well as in a cannery. This is currently a research project of the University of California College of Agriculture Experiment Station.

While development of such a cutter is obviously a problem of engineering, the cutter itself would solve an industry problem in the field of economics. A cutter that any orchardist might afford which would increase a worker's output of cut fruit five to ten or more times would enable the orchardist to cut his work force, reduce his labor costs, handle his ripening fruit more rapidly, and produce a larger proportion of salable fruit.

Inevitably a part of the savings in handing costs would be passed on to consumers, and apricots would be placed in a better competitive position in the retail market.

MORE PRODUCTION— LOWER COST

This illustration is not intended to draw particular attention to one problem hampering agriculture. Rather, it is representative of scores of similar situations in all branches of California agriculture where the development of new, relatively simple machines could vastly extend the services and supply of goods now furnished the public, and probably at the same time lower costs. It makes clear the fact that engineering research must be continued so that farmers can better serve the public.

A GROWING NEWSPAPER IN A GROWING COMMUNITY

American Business Behind The Scenes

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK—Business, which only shuffled along at the beginning of the year, perked up recently and there is a good chance that it might end 1952 with a rush.

Industry after industry has reported improvement. The home furnishings business is gaining rapidly—sparked by air conditioning's rapid growth and revived interest in television sets. Furniture, although not showing huge gains, seems to be out of the woods. Construction may reach a peak of $32 billion. Shirts are also doing better with store orders running 25 per cent ahead of last year.

The suspension of credit controls has been more effective in bringing about higher sales than was generally predicted and probably was one of the more important factors in the recent improvement in business. But the biggest boost may be in the making at this moment—the effects of the steel strike.

While the dangers of a short steel supply are enormous and while many workers and companies are suffering because of it, the fact remains: there is nothing like a good impending shortage to get the public out buying.

DEATH ON CHUCKHOLES—Recent studies of municipal governments indicate that American city dwellers pay more than $80 million a year simply to patch up the holes made by repair crews working on under-pavement utility lines. This kind of expenditure could often be avoided with a little planning such as that at the new Levittown Pa.—a completely planned community now being built in lower Bucks county near U. S. Steel's giant Fairless Works.

The new town was planned down to the last shrub by the community building firm of Levitt & Sons, Inc. It includes the thoughtful provision to lay water lines under the lawns in front of homes and sewer lines along the backyard property lines—instead of under the streets.

This means Levittown's 177 miles of streets will stay put once they're down and property owners —70,000 strong when the community is finished in three years —will save an estimated $42,000 a year.

THINGS TO COME — Garages and service stations will be interested in a new metal degreaser, said to be particularly effective for cleaning electrical accessories. The fluid is practically odorless, dries quickly and leaves no sticky residue . . . A "re-usable" non-melting ice has been developed on the West coast for dairy plants and shippers of perishable products. The "ice" is a mixture of water and a processed powder. It can be frozen and thawed over and over again without turning to liquid and can be molded into any shape . . . A flat "wafer" electric motor is available in ratings from 1/20th to 5 h.p. . . . The latest automatic labeling machine labels and heat-seals the tops of bags . . . To protect fabrics on display from fading, try a new substance that can be sprayed on a store window from a pressurized can. The coating is clear but filters out harmful rays of brigth light.

EXTRA! EXTRA! — Everyone knows it's essential for any businessman, no matter what his field, to keep up with the news. Yet the obvious is often forgotten.

G. J. Madge, comptroller of American Can Company, recently provided a timely reminder when he told sales managers from the firm's 33 district offices that newspaper reading is a must for the young businessman who desires to get ahead as well as for the older man who wants to keep his company in step with progressive ideas and developments.

The newspaper, of all forms of communication, is the businessman's best means of keeping up with the changing business scene and is a valuable adjunct in acquiring a liberal education. "In reading your newspaper," Madge points out, "you get background, historical facts as well as the day-to-day coverage of events. If you don't have the background, you have a mighty poor chance of running you rbusiness properly."

MILK FED—Although milk production has dropped further and further behind the growth of America's population in the last decade, people manage to consume more milk and milk products. Yearly milk production today is only about 730 pounds per capita compared with the 1935-39 average of 820 pounds, yet consumption of fluid milk, ice cream, canned milk and cheese is greater than ever.

The main reason for the apparent contradiction is that the pigs and chickens are losing out and waste is being eliminated. Large quantities of skim milk formerly used to fatten farm animals are now being used in non-fat dry milk, skimmed milk drinks and cottage cheese.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Iron ore shipments down the Great Lakes dwindled to 2,486,924 tons in June, reflecting the steel strike. In June, 1951, 13,166,130 tons were shipped . . . Employment at the beginning of last month—before the full effect of the steel strike but after vacationing students had entered the market—was at a high of 62,573,000, up approximately 1.5 million over May. Agricultural employment rose most, from 6,960,000 to 8,170,000 . . . Business inventories were $70.2 billion in May, down $200 million after seasonal adjustment . . . Cotton cultivation is estimated at 26,051,000 acres, off seven per cent from last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Merle Chamberlain, 661 Pamlar Avenue, have a new son, Clifton Scott, born this month.

Roots of Culture — Good Taste THEN and NOW

Bonus Babies Rob Minors Of New Talent

Time was when a promising sand lot baseball player was glad to sign up with a minor league team in order to get a start in professional baseball. That's all changed now.

Major league scouts pursue outstanding youngsters with fabulous bonus offers just for inking a contract.

Payments of $50,000 are common and some have run close to, or beyond $100,000. It's nice loot for a kid to get even before he proves himself in the pro ranks. But many sports experts say it's hurting both the kids and the game.

They feel that it gives the youngster an exaggerated sense of importance, increases the pressure on him and makes it harder for him to succeed. They also contend that the minor leagues are being frozen out in the talent search by the big bonus bids. Only time will tell what the result of this trend will be.

As for the bonus babies, more than a few of them are making good in spite of their high price tags. And as for their bonuses, we'll bet that many an old time star bemoans his fate of being born 30 years too soon.

NEWCOMERS

A report from Santa Clara County Health Department lists four more births in the Campbell area, born this month to Campbell parents.

David Robert Hernandez is now at home after greeting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rito Navarro Hernandez, 540 McGlincey Ave. Likewise, Lori Lea Lancaster born to parents Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Buford Lancaster, 34 Hunt Way. So too, with William Allen Langford to parents Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Monroe.

Langford, 57 Dudd Ave. Jeffrey Michael Tablak the same, whose dad Edward Tablak, has offices in the Press building.

There is a new Gardner, Lloyd Vern, at the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Buell Gardner, 393 Hamilton Avenue, Campbell, born May 6.

A boy, Chris Randy, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alva Alexander Rannals, Rt. 2, Box 648 Pollard Road, May 6.

If you call by number
You'll have faster long distance service

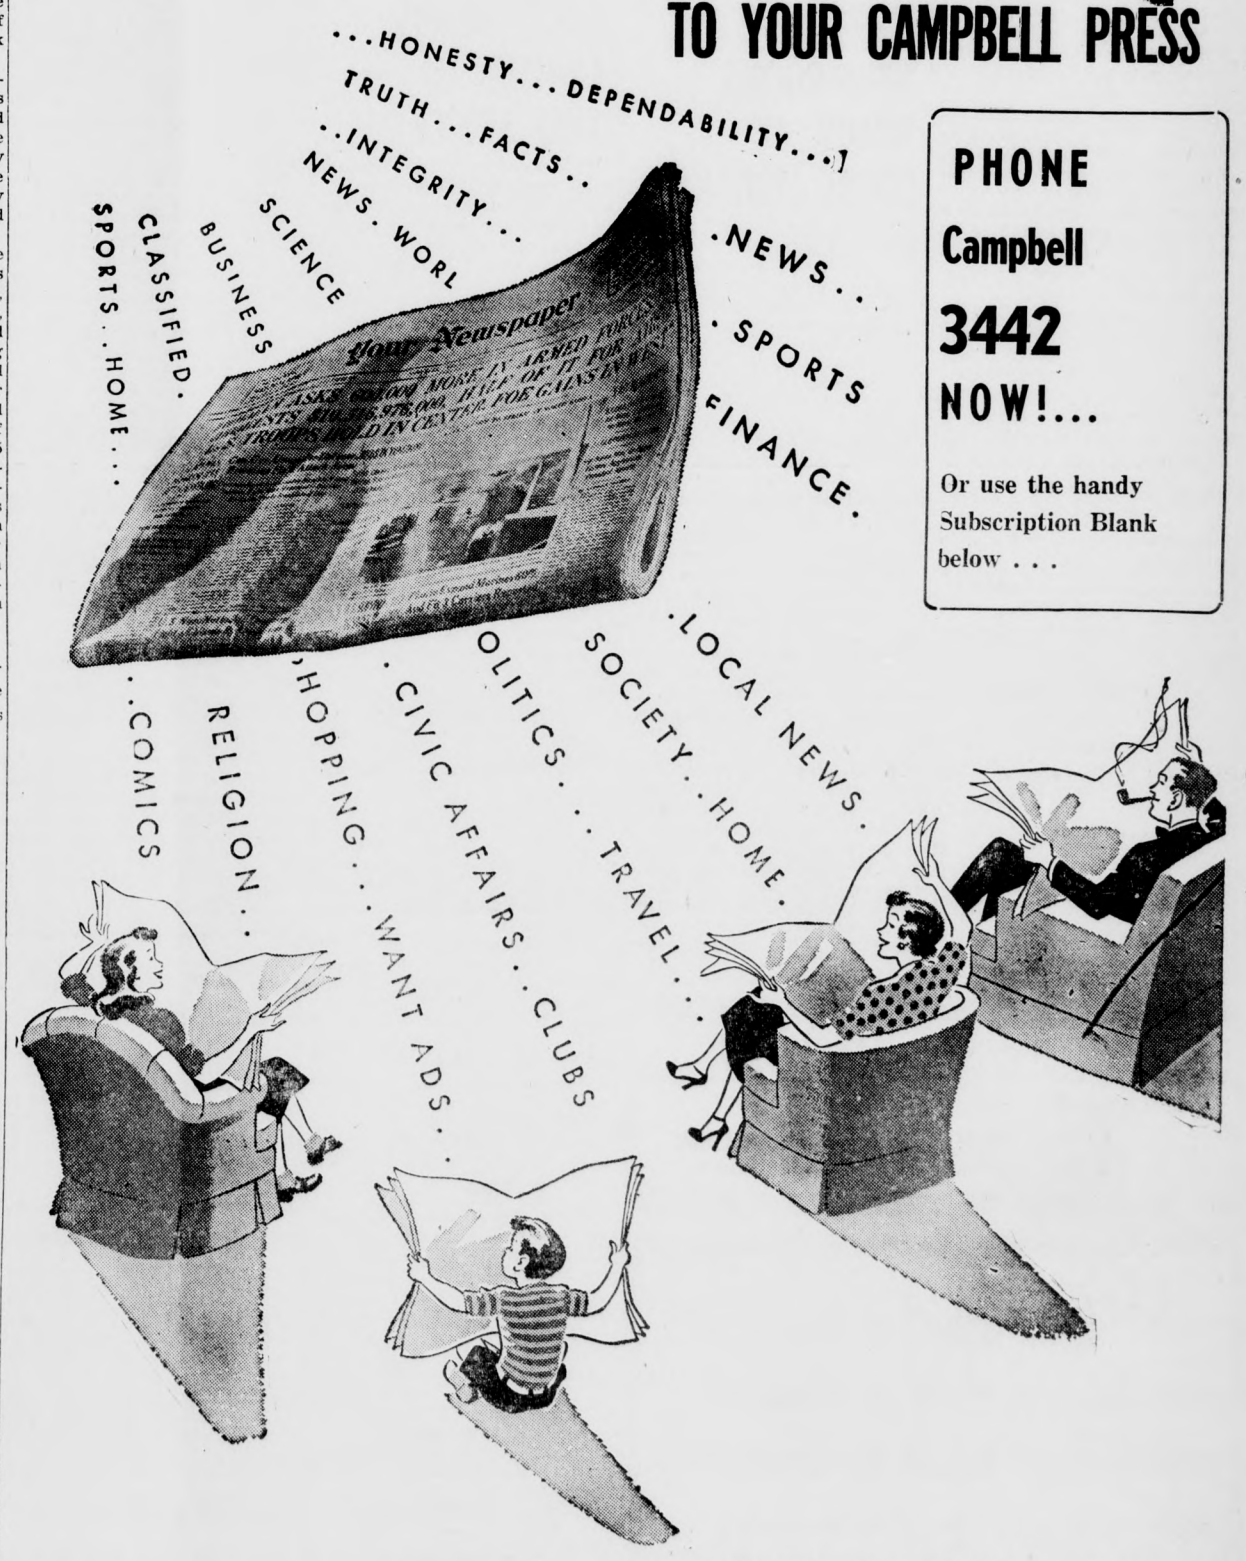

You'll have faster long distance service if you give the operator the out-of-town telephone number you are calling, rather than just the name and address. That way, you see, you won't have to wait while she gets the number from "Information" in the distant town you're calling. You'll save time . . . and calling by number means better service for everyone, especially now when long distance lines are carrying so many important industrial and military calls.

on long distance calls is to tell the operator you'll speak with anyone who answers at the out-of-town number you're calling. The lower rates on "station" calls can mean important savings for you.

NEW BOOKS READY AT LOCAL LIBRARY

Elizabeth Singletary, Santa Clara County Librarian, reviews three new books available in the Campbell Library, two novels and a story by foreign correspondent Ray Brock who reviews the troubled Middle East with reports of the key problems in the area with sidelights on pressure groups, bobbies and special interests in the United States.

SO LONG TO LEARN
By John Masefield

When John Masefield tells a story it is invariably a good one, so when England's poet laureate sets down random memories of his childhood and the steps which led to an author's career we have first and foremost a delightful narrative of a young boy's life in the tranquil English countryside. The forces which guided him toward the life of poet, novelist and critic are equally entertaining and illuminating as well, for they will prove instructive to the young writers of our generation. Mr. Masefield introduces his autobiography with the admonition that this is only that part of his life story which bears upon his becoming an author, that other episodes have already been used in his novels or will be woven into future narratives. Happily we can anticipate, therefore, "Sard Harker", and "Salt Water Poems and Ballads."

THE ENVISIBLE MAN
By Ralph Ellison

This is the story of a man whose boyhood in a small Southern town begins with courage and progresses to rejection in a Harlem race riot. To describe it as a novel about Negroes by a Negro author would be to somehow limit and qualify its excellence. The story is brought to its climax during the Depression when "the invisible man" demonstrates the appalling struggle he must maintain to be himself not only with the white people in his environment but often in conflicts with powerful members of his own race. In this first novel, Mr. Ellison has achieved distinction among such other leading negro writers as Richard Wright, Langston Hughes, and Ann Petry; more than this, many critics feel he has won a distinguished place in the world of letters at large both as artist and craftsman.

BLOOD, OIL AND SAND
By Ray Brock

Only the Middle East could merit such a title, and foreign correspondent Ray Brock has covered this troubled area very thoroughly if not profoundly. From personal observation he reports on the "Arab League, Turkey and Israel, Abdullah of Jordan and his anti-western son, Tallal, Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, discontented Tunisia and Morocco and alert Pakistan." Nor does he forget pressure groups, lobbies and special interests at home with a special detour to the State Department and its dealings with the Middle East. We may not agree with Mr. Brock's conclusions entirely, but we cannot fail to benefit from the wealth of information he presents.

FEDERAL DEFICIT COSTS COUNTY 32 MILLION

The people of Santa Clara county will have to pay $31,920,000 in taxes in the future as their share of the 012,700,000,000 deficit resulting from the failure of congress to balance the federal budget for 1952-53 within the limits of anticipated federal income, California Taxpayers' association said today, checking the box score of congressional action on the federal budget.

This is over and above the taxes that must be paid for 1952-53.

California's share of the $12,700,000,000 deficit in this year's federal spending program will be about $1,083,310,000, the association estimated—almost as much as the $1,200,000,000 state budget for 1952-53—almost as much as the total state tax bill for the year.

Total federal spending for 1952-53 is budgeted at about $81,000,000,000—which is about $4.5 billion less than the president proposed in the January budget. Federal revenues for 1952-53 are expected to reach about $68,300,000,000, leaving a deficit estimated at $12,700,000,000.

"Congress made an effort to cut down on federal spending for 1952-53—but the cuts were not big enough to keep spending within expected revenues.

"It's not too early for the people to start a drive for federal economy in the future," the Taxpayers' association said.

"Reduced spending is the only hope for reduced taxes."

Untreated wooden clothes poles may rot quickly, even when set in cement. The cement contracts, water seeps in and decay starts. Poles pressure-treated with copper-arsenate wood preservative last 3 to 5 times longer.

TRUCK INDUSTRY OUTLINED FOR ROTARY CLUB

John R. Lambrecht of C and L Motors, San Jose, in his talk on the Trucking Industry to local Rotary members Monday, stressed the role of the industry in the decentralization of American Industry.

The industry which employs 5,700,000 people and eight and one-fourth million trucks and busses made possible the scattering of industries by catering to the need for short inexpensive hauls, Lambrecht pointed out.

"This factor may have valuable results in the event of atomic war," Lambrecht said.

Another key point mentioned was the need for legislation to solve the nation's road traffic problems, which are becoming more congested daily resulting in a serious threat to vital transportation.

"Possibly even more serious," Lambrecht said, "Is the danger of political machinations which attempt to divert Gas Tax Funds from maintenance and construction of new roads."

"Gas Tax Funds and Federal allotments are the major sources of income to provide necessary road improvements and construction," Lambrecht pointed out.

"The trucking industry must keep a sharp watch to see that these funds are used for the purpose for which they were intended," he said.

Rotary chairman of the day was Harry Redier.

Rotary Club's annual barbecue and golf match is scheduled for Monday at Rinconada Golf Course. Full details may be received from committee members.

Next meeting will be a golf, barbecue, and dance at La Rinconada Monday afternoon and evening. A round table will be held for visiting Rotarians.
